The soft, luxurious touch of conditioned water adds so much to the quality of your life. It gently caresses and comforts in many ways all around your home. Yet conditioned water is much more than just comforting— it can save you real money, too!

Soft, bright clothes. Laundry comes out cleaner in conditioned water. Fabrics look brighter, feel softer, smell fresher. Detergents work better and your clothes last longer.

Naturally smooth skin, shiny silky hair. Bathing and washing with conditioned water is a pleasure. Skin rinses completely clean, and stays soft and smooth. Shaving cream lubricates better for a closer shave. Conditioned water gives hair a naturally clean and lively sheen, and leaves it soft, silky and easy to groom.

Clean sparkling dishes. Hot conditioned water cleans dishes, glassware and silverware completely, and helps reduce spotting, filming and residue, too.

Fast, easy cleaning. No more bathtub rings, stained drains, dingy tiles or encrusted chrome. Everything in your bath and kitchen cleans easier and stays cleaner longer with conditioned water.

Less soaps and cleaners. Since it enhances the effectiveness of cleaning agents, conditioned water helps you save on detergents, cleaners, soaps, shampoos and conditioners.

Greater efficiency and economy. Conditioned water prevents the build up of rock-like scale in faucets, washing machines and dishwashers. It prevents scale build up in pipes, increases plumbing and appliance efficiencies, and cuts repair and water heating costs.

Conditioned water adds longer life to your water heater by minimizing the scale build up created by hard water minerals. Saves you money... less energy is required (17% to 21%) to heat water in tanks without a scale build up.
